APPENDIX A - EQUALITY STATEMENT

Union solidarity is based on the principle that Union members are equal and deserve mutual respect at all levels. Any behavior that creates conflict prevents us from working together to strengthen our Union.

As unionists, mutual respect, cooperation and understanding are our goals. We should neither condone nor tolerate behavior that undermines the dignity or self-esteem of any individual or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment.

Discriminatory speech or conduct which is racist, sexist, transphobic or homophobic, hurts and thereby divides us. So, too, does discrimination on the basis of ability, age, class, religion, language and ethnic origin.

Sometimes discrimination takes the form of harassment. Harassment means using real or perceived power to abuse, devalue or humiliate. Harassment should not be treated as a joke. The uneasiness and resentment that it creates are not feelings that help us grow as a Union.

Discrimination and harassment focus on characteristics that make us different; and reduce our capacity to work together on shared concerns such as decent wages, safe working conditions, and justice in the workplace, society and in our Union.

CUPE's Policies and Practices must reflect our commitment to equality. Members, staff and elected Officers must be mindful that all Sisters and Brothers deserve dignity, equality and respect.

APPENDIX B - STATEMENT AGAINST HARASSMENT

(NOTE: TO BE READ AND DISTRIBUTED AT ALL CUPE NOVA SCOTIA SPONSORED EVENTS).

CUPE Nova Scotia is opposed to all forms of discrimination and harassment on the basis of age, race color, religion, creed, sex, sexual orientation, physical or mental disability, ethnic, national or aboriginal origin, family status, marital status, political belief, affiliation or activity.

Harassment based on any of the above is a form of discrimination, and it also includes personal harassment. Harassment means any improper behavior by a person, which is unwelcome and offensive to another person and which the person engaging in such behavior knew or ought reasonably to have known was unwelcome. It comprises objectionable conduct, comment, or display that demeans, belittles, or causes humiliation and/or embarrassment to another person.

Harassment includes, but is not limited to: unwelcome remarks, jokes, innuendos or taunts about a person's body, clothing, sex, sexuality, racial background, disability, and or age; insulting gestures and practical jokes: for example, of a sexist, racist or homophobic nature; displaying of pornographic, racist pictures, graffiti or material; leering; refusing to talk to or work cooperatively with a person because of her or his sex, race, color, sexuality, age; unnecessary physical contact such as patting, touching, pinching; sexual overtures; sexual assault; physical assault.

CUPE Nova Scotia recognizes that harassment in any form prevents CUPE members from participating equally at CUPE sponsored events. In order to maintain a harassment-free environment, CUPE Nova Scotia will inform people about this Policy at the beginning of every Union function.

CUPE Nova Scotia declares all its events as a "ZERO TOLERANCE ZONE FOR HARASSMENT".

Complaints of harassment will be taken seriously and will be investigated immediately. The investigation of each incident will be handled confidentially and expeditiously, with particular sensitivity for the complainant. In each case the resolution of any issue brought about by harassment would include, but may not be limited to any of the following; an apology, a reprimand and possible expulsion from the Union event. If either party is unsatisfied with the decision, they can make an appeal to the CUPE Nova Scotia Executive Board.

The Procedure to deal with alleged cases of harassment at all CUPE Nova Scotia events are as follows (to be distributed at all Union functions).

- Complaints of harassment at any event(s) of CUPE will be taken seriously and will be investigated immediately.
- If you believe you are being harassed, act immediately. If possible, make it clear to the other person you do not welcome such behavior. You can do so either on your own, verbally or in writing, or with the assistance of another party, including the Ombudsperson if you so wish. Indicate that you will take further action if the behavior continues.

- If the inappropriate behavior persists, approach the Ombudsperson who will investigate the matter.
- Confidentiality and privacy of the incident will be maintained.
- There are four distinct ways in which you might choose to respond to harassment. Ombudspersons can assist you in handling your complaint. CUPE Nova Scotia encourages members to resolve member to member harassment through informal resolution or conciliation with the confidentiality of all involved parties respected.

INFORMAL RESOLUTION

The Ombudsperson will seek informal resolution where possible and with the agreement of the complainant. The Ombudsperson ensures that the alleged harassment will not be repeated. The complainant need not deal with the alleged harasser directly.

CONCILIATION

Conciliation is only an option if the complainant wishes it to take place. This alternative operates similarly to that of informal resolution except that the Ombudspersons act as conciliators involved with both parties.

FORMAL COMPLAINT

Should the alleged harassment fail to be resolved by the above processes, then the complainant may wish to lodge a formal complaint. This complaint would be fully investigated by an Ombudsperson who has not been involved in the informal process regarding the particular complaint. The outcome of the investigation would be reported to the President of CUPE Nova Scotia, the Equal Opportunities Committee Liaison (Officer of the Division), and a confidential report given to all other Division Officers for their consideration. The investigation would have full input from all parties involved.

A complaint involving a member of the staff will be reported immediately to the Regional Director who will investigate and take appropriate action if warranted.

EXTERNAL ALTERNATIVES

Every effort should be made to ensure that there are sufficient resources and services available to resolve harassment within our Union. Situations may arise, however, where a victim of harassment may wish to consider external alternatives. Complaints involving discriminatory harassment may be filed with the Nova Scotia Human Rights Commission. Depending on the nature of the complaint, charges may be laid under the Criminal Code.

- In each case the resolution of any issue brought about by harassment could include, but may not be limited to any of the following; an apology, a reprimand and possible removal from any elected or selected position of CUPE Nova Scotia or the expulsion from the event.
- Any second offences of harassment by an individual at any event(s) of CUPE Nova Scotia will be followed up in accordance with this Policy and the penalty shall take into account the fact that it is a second offence.
- Where remedy is involved, the Executive Board members of CUPE Nova Scotia shall make the final decision. A written report will be provided to all parties involved. Additional action may be pursued in accordance with the CUPE National and or CUPE Nova Scotia Constitution(s) and or through any legal channels or by any other means to gain real and meaningful resolves to complaints of harassment.
- Any member expelled from a CUPE Nova Scotia event and/or removed from a CUPE Nova Scotia position will be strongly encouraged to take counseling and courses such as the CUPE Anti-Harassment Course and Anger Management, at their own cost.
- After proof of such counseling and training by the individual to the Executive Board of CUPE Nova Scotia, he/she may be considered to begin and attend events or participate in elections and selected positions within CUPE Nova Scotia on a trial basis. The Executive Board members of CUPE Nova Scotia shall make the final decision of considerations.
